MUSIC...ART...LETTERS

Dear Members,

The good news is it will be warmer next week in Florida.

At our January 15th luncheon, Dr. Terryl Lawrence spoke about a Polish artist, Tamara de Lempicka who was the best-known painter of the Art Deco paintings. Dr. Lawrence showed us slides of this artist's Art Deco portraits of aristocrats and the wealthy, and her highly stylized paintings of nudes. While viewing the slides, Dr Lawrence told us about Tamara de Lempicka's interesting life. This lecture was fascinating and enjoyed by all.

Three of our Pen sisters were students in Dr. Lawrence's art class and raved about her teaching style, which is why I asked Dr. Lawrence to speak to our members at the luncheon.

At the February 19th luncheon, the Volunteers Against Scams Team (VAST) will speak to us about awareness of different kinds of scams. This group is sponsored by the Police Department.

We look forward seeing you all at the luncheons in the Mariposa Restaurant in Nieman Marcus, located in Town Center in Boca Raton. Guests are invited. Please complete the flyers that are posted in the Pen and Palette.

Please send copies of your artwork to me brendres@aol.com because I am researching a possible art show at the Cornell Museum.

Warm regards,

Brenda Dressler, PhD

President of the Boca Raton Branch of NLAPW.

For your convenience and planning, the February and March Luncheon information is included in this newsletter.

Our January 15 2026 Luncheon featured Terryl Lawrence, EdD, an artist and photographer who discussed the life and works of artist Tamara de Lempick and explained how Art Deco influenced her paintings.

A New Beginning

Young lovers often believe their feelings are unique,
as if they invented love.
But love can happen
at any age
or any place...
and with the same
depth of emotion,
for each new love
is a new life.

Carol White received an email from The Storefront Theatre in North Carolina:

"We are pleased to announce that your play, Growing Pains, is one of the top picks of our We Like Short-Shorts: A Festival of 10-Minute Plays competition." This production will take place in March 2026.

Hello Art Members! We need more art submissions, all of which will be considered for either The Pen Woman magazine or as Featured Art on the national website. I'm especially interested to see submissions from artists who have not previously been published in either place. Be sure to include in your email your name, branch, image title, medium, and size. You may submit art to my personal email (lucy@lucyarnold.com) or to arteditor@nlapw.org.

FROM THE ART WORLD

Reflections Art and Literature Show

Delray Beach Library
100 W Atlantic Avenue
Delray Beach, Florida

Our branch of NLAPW is going to have an Art and Literature Show at the Delray Beach Library from April 7th through June 6th. The theme this year is Reflections. Hanging day for the art is April 6th and take down is June 6th. A limit of five original paintings or photographs is acceptable, and they must be hanging ready, no saw-tooths. This is for Members and Friends of our branch. Between 4 P.M. and 5 P.M. on opening day, April 7th, people can walk around to meet the artists and look at the artwork on the 2nd floor. At 5 P.M. there will be a reception on the first floor with refreshments when the artists can speak about their work, and writers can read their poetry or an excerpt from their writings. If you have already sent an Artist Statement to Roslyn Ross-Hoffman last year, then Michelle Harrington has your statement. If you are new you will need to send your artist statement (100 words) to me at my email below. This year Michelle just needs the title, size, material, and price of your pictures. That can be sent to me also so I can forward it on to her.

ART NEWS FROM PHYLLIS ELRICH AND FRAN MANN GOODMAN

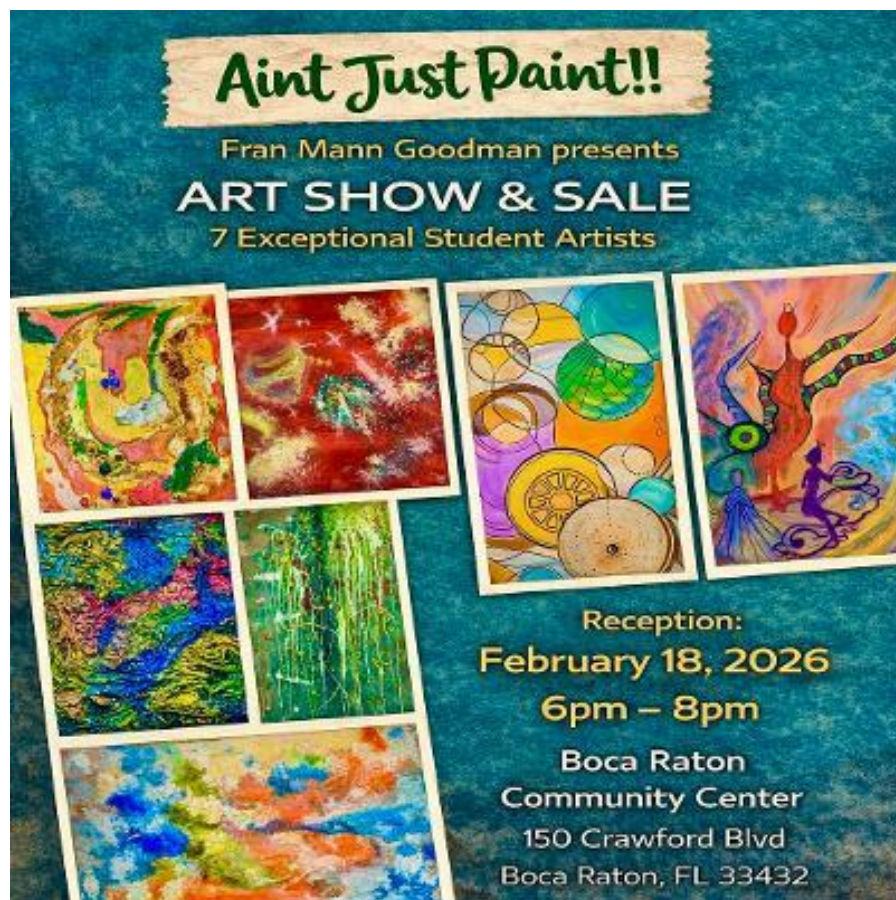

"Ain't Just Paint," an amazing exhibit curated by former Art Chair, Fran Mann Goodman, is now showing at the Boca Raton Community Center.

Several of Fran's students, including former Art Chair Phyllis Elrich, have displayed a variety of abstract pieces using unusual elements such as pumice gel, sand, inked mica, acrylic skins and impasto techniques.

Each student tells about the transformations their work has gone through to achieve this high level of creativity.

New ideas leave you enjoying the work while encouraging the viewer to possibly begin an important path of their own.

The show is from February 10th through the month of March. A reception will be held on Wednesday evening, March 18, 2026, between 6:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m.

Phyllis Elrich, is also part of the juried and judged show held at The Skolnick Community Center, Pompano Beach from February 2, 2026, through March 2, 2026, under the auspices of our sister Pen Women branch of Fort Lauderdale. Phoenix, President, and Tammy Seymour, Art Chair, have curated a show of over fifty works. Each year this show is open to all new Art applicants for Pen Women, giving them the chance to join in a juried show. Come see the variety and talent of those who have entered. Phyllis has entered two new pieces, “Teeney Tapestries” and “My Soul.”

The Arts Garage in Delray Beach has set out their schedule for the year for exhibits and requests for artists. If our artists go to www.artsgarage.org they can get current information on the different shows the Arts Garage is going to be sponsoring and how to apply.
